CLASS OF 2026

Steps to Apply as a Promise Scholarship Student

Step 1: Apply to COM

Complete the ApplyTexas application for College of the Mainland

Step 2: Complete the FAFSA

(or TAFSA for eligible students)

Submit financial aid forms to determine eligibility

Step 3: Enroll Full-Time at COM

Must take at least 12 credit hours per semester (or full-time in a workforce program)

Step 4: Maintain Academic Progress

Stay in good academic standing to remain eligible for funding

The COM Dual Credit Advantage

The COM Dual Credit Advantage gives high school students two pathways to earn college credit while completing their high school diploma.

- Dual Credit Courses – Take individual college classes at your high school, at COM, or online.
- Collegiate High School (CHS) – Enroll in a structured program taking both high school and college courses at COM to earn an associate degree by high school graduation.

Save time, save money, and get a head start on your future!

What is Dual Credit?

Students can earn both high school and college credit by completing one course.

Earn College Credit

Earn college credit early to save time and money.

College Resources

Dual Credit students have access to the college library, tutoring services, career exploration and more.

Eased Transition

Dual Credit students are eased into the demands of college level work in a familiar, supportive environment.

Head Start

Complete foundation courses that will transfer to a public college or university in Texas or get ahead on earning a workforce certificate.

Dual Credit is a special program that allows high school students to take college courses while still earning high school credit.

- Take real college courses while still in high school
- Earn both high school and college credit for the same class
- Classes may be taught at your high school, at COM, or online

How Does Dual Credit Work?

- You enroll in a college-level course approved by both your high school and College of the Mainland.
- The course follows college standards and earns you real college credits upon passing.

Taught by College-Approved Instructors

- Courses follow college-level standards.
- Classes may be taught by high school teachers or college professors.

Where Can You Take Dual Credit Courses?

- At Your High School – Convenient & familiar.
- At College of the Mainland (COM) Campus – Experience college life!
- Online – Flexible learning on your own schedule.

STRATEGIC

Dual Credit Course Formats & Scheduling

- At your high school?
16-week courses
- At COM or online?
8-week courses
- Mix & match to fit your schedule!

Ask your counselor which format is best for you!

What is Collegiate High School?

Collegiate High School (CHS) is a structured program where students take all classes at COM and graduate high school with both a diploma and an associate degree!

- Enjoy a college campus experience!
- Receive personalized support for high school & college success.

Graduate high school as a college sophomore!

What is Collegiate High School

CHS at a Glance

Location

All classes are taken at College of the Mainland.

Participation in high school and college extra-curricular activities is encouraged.

Target Students

Students who want the rigor and challenge of college courses and the freedom of a flexible schedule.

Goal

All students will work towards high school graduation and associate degree requirements simultaneously.

Course Load

Students are enrolled as full-time college students and take a minimum of 12 college hours a semester.

How Does Collegiate High School Work?

- Students enroll in college-level courses while completing high school requirements at COM
- CHS students follow a structured academic degree plan to stay on track for graduation

CHS is the fastest way to earn a college degree while still in high school — saving time and money!

Taught by College Professors

- Courses meet college-level standards
- Students have access to college resources, advising, and student life

Where and When Do CHS Students Take Classes?

- All classes are taken on the COM campus, giving students a true college experience
- Courses may be offered in person, hybrid or online for flexibility
- Most CHS students complete their associate's degree without having to participate in summer courses.

Preparing for College-Level Learning

Dr. Rocky Barney, Dean of Instruction

College Courses = Higher Expectations

Dual Credit and CHS students are enrolled in real college classes and must meet college-level standards.

Here's what to expect:

- More Independence – Professors treat you like a college student.
- Time Management is Key – Fewer reminders, more personal responsibility
- Stronger Study Habits – College coursework requires deeper thinking and preparation
- Critical Thinking & Participation – Expect discussions, research and writing at a higher level
- Grading Differences – College grades are based on fewer assignments and exams

Be prepared, stay organized, and make the most of your college experience!

Classroom Expectations

Prepared and Engaged

Arrive having completed readings/assignments and participate appropriately in discussions or activities.

Professional Behavior

Respectful communication, attention during class

Active Learning

Classes may involve discussion, problem-solving, group work, or applied activities rather than continuous lecture.

Accountability without Reminders

Instructors will not routinely prompt students to participate, submit work, or stay focused—responsibility rests with the student.

Respect for Diverse Perspectives

College classrooms value open dialogue; students are expected to listen, disagree constructively, and contribute thoughtfully.

Appropriate Use of Technology

Use of AI and other technology is governed by the instructor and discussed in the course syllabus

Faculty Responsibilities

Provide Clear Expectations

Faculty outline course objectives, grading criteria, and deadlines through the syllabus and course materials

Deliver instruction aligned to learning outcomes

Class activities, assignments, and assessments are designed to support stated course goals and student learning

Create a respectful learning environment

Faculty foster inclusive, professional classrooms where questions and differing viewpoints are welcomed

Offer access to academic support and feedback

Provide office hours, respond within reasonable timeframes, and give feedback intended to improve student learning

Evaluate performance fairly and consistently

Student work is assessed using established criteria applied equitably across the course
